1. Principal's Sharing

Dear parents and students.

The school is gradually returning to normal, and we have resumed regular interactions with students. On 11th November, the school organized the Life-wide Learning Day, which was a large-scale event after the epidemic. With the cool autumn weather, students, having spent almost three years confined at home, could finally breathe fresh air again. The school is still taking cautious protective measures as the epidemic situation is still severe. In December, the school arranged a singing competition and house competitions, and I encouraged the student union to organize more activities. For this year's graduation ceremony, we invited Professor C. S. Chan, an early alumna of our school and former dean of the School of Literature at City University of Hong Kong, who holds a high academic position in Hong Kong and is even our first junior high school graduate.

31st January marks the beginning of the Chinese Culture Week, and the programs were very exciting. In addition to book fairs, writing Spring Festival couplets, and special lectures, there were also various cultural cuisines, which I tried a lot. Furthermore, two students gave me two couplets, which are still hanging in the principal's office. This year, we also specially invited an artist to perform a face-changing act. The students were deeply engrossed and amazed by the performance.

This academic year, our school has received assistance from various organizations and established sister school relationships with Xiamen Foreign Language School and Sichuan Wenchuan Middle School. 12th May, 2023, marks the 15th anniversary of the Wenchuan earthquake. Our teachers and students were invited to visit Siwenchuan Middle School and pay respects at the earthquake site. Listening to the guide's explanation, we remembered the teachers who sacrificed themselves to protect the students on that day, and tears filled our eyes as we paid tribute in our hearts. The local officials also provided us with a warm reception, and we had a celebratory dinner together, singing and rejoicing.

Our school's care for ethnic minority students has been widely recognized in the academic community. On 16th March, teachers from HKSYP&IA Chan Name Chong Memorial College visited our school to exchange experiences in teaching ethnic minority students. Our teaching of ethnic minority history has become a model for other secondary schools.

The Hong Kong Sevens, an international rugby event, resumed in Hong Kong, and our school is a major partner for the rugby sevens. We are the first rugby school in Hong Kong. Starting from 31st March this year, we have loaned our classrooms as resting areas for the players, and teachers and students could also enjoy the rugby matches for free and experience the lively atmosphere.

22nd April was Parents' Day, and I had a chat with parents in Room 204. I also wanted to know their impressions of the school and hoped to take the school up a notch. I had a long conversation with one parent who specifically mentioned the need for special attention to the English proficiency of Chinese-speaking students. I have taken this matter to heart and will formulate policies to improve their English proficiency.

In addition to the above items, our school is currently in contact with institutions in the Greater Bay Area, hoping that students can have a better understanding of the Greater Bay Area and be prepared for future development. In mid-May, together with the renowned director Mr. Stephen Shin Kei-yin, we discussed the project – Broaden Horizons in the Greater Bay Area, in which we will actively participate.

After the epidemic, the school hopes to continue to connect with schools in Denmark, Germany, the United States, and other countries to develop student exchange programs. We have made preliminary contact with the United States and plan to implement the student exchange program in the new academic year. With the summer vacation, I hope students will cherish the long vacation and use it to broaden their horizons and extend their knowledge.

2. The Analects

- A. Is it not a pleasure, having learned something, to try it out at due intervals? Is it not a joy to have like-minded friends come from afar?
- B. The Master said, "The three Armies can be deprived of their commander, but there is no way a common man can be deprived of his purpose."
- C. It is these things that cause me concern: failure to cultivate virtue, failure to go more deeply into what I have learned, inability, when I am told what is right, to go over to where it is, and inability to reform myself when I have defects.
- D. A craftsman who wishes to practice his craft well must first sharpen his tools.
- E. He cannot be led into excesses when wealthy and honoured or deflected from his purpose when poor and obscure, nor can he be made to bow before superior force. This is what I would call a great man.
